

Illinois Retail Auction and Possible Transmission Related Changes

This web page link <http://www.illinois-auction.com/> provides information on the Illinois Auction process for the procurement of electricity at wholesale by Ameren's Illinois utilities for delivery to Illinois retail consumers requiring supply service from their local distribution utility beginning January 2007.

A descending clock auction will be used to purchase electric supply to meet the full requirement needs of Illinois retail customers. The Web site provides general information for all stakeholders regarding the Illinois Auction process as well as detailed information for prospective bidders including possible transmission related changes such as redefining Ameren's Illinois control areas and commercial pricing zones.
